Registered Domains

These domains have been registered and are similar to your primary domain. They could be used as a starting point for a phishing attack on your organization.

Private Domains

These domains have been registered to a private organization. Tracking down the owners of protected domains is sometimes complex. It is more difficult to have private domains taken down, should you find that any of them are being used for malicious purposes.

Mail Server Available

These look-alike domains have a Mail Server active. This means that email can be sent from a domain that looks similar to your own.

Web Server Available

These look-alike domains have a Web Server active. We recommend reviewing the information hosted on these domains using a protected, sandbox environment, to ensure that your clients are not being fooled by an imposter site.
